

CONTESTS

Presentations	V
Introduction	IX
1. Profile of the 1999 Erasmus graduate	1
1.1 Universities, faculties and degree courses	1
1.2 Personal data	5
1.3 Social background	7
1.4 Success in university studies	9
1.5 Upper–secondary school studies	14
1.6 Patterns of study at university	16
1.7 Assessments	18
1.8 Knowledge of languages and computer skills	20
1.9 Work while at university	21
1.10 Future studies	22
1.11 Future employment	23
2. The employment situations of Erasmus graduates one and two years after graduation	27
2.1 The populations surveyed	27
2.2 Postgraduate studies and training	28
2.3 Employment situation	30
2.4 The characteristics of employed graduates	35
2.4.1 Occupational status on graduation	35
2.4.2 Times and routes into employment	35
2.4.3 Forms of employment: type of contract, public or private sector, size of company and economic sector	39
2.4.4 The place of work	42
2.4.5 The usefulness and relevance of the degree	44
2.4.6 Job satisfaction	47
2.5 The job search	48
Appendix	49
Methodological notes	51
Panels	57
Bibliographical references	111